State of California • Department of Justice

Edmund G. Brown Jr.
ATTORNEY GENERAL

Position Announcement

Chief, Bureau of Forensic Services

The California Department of Justice announces a unique opportunity to lead one of the nation's premier forensic organizations.

About the organization

The Bureau of Forensic Services (BFS) operates a network of ASCLD-certified full services laboratories in 11 locations throughout the state and the nation's fourth-largest DNA lab. As part of the Division of Law Enforcement, BFS is the scientific arm of the Attorney General's Office. BFS employees provide forensic science information and services to state and local law enforcement agencies, district attorneys, and the courts.

About the position

As Chief of the Bureau, you will be leading over 350 scientists, criminalists, and other professionals. BFS headquarters are in the heart of downtown Sacramento, the thriving metropolitan capital of California. Salary is approximately $130-145,000 per year, depending on qualifications, plus full benefits. Advanced expertise in forensic science highly desired.
